

Zidipay Anti-Bribery Policy and Code of Conduct

Document ID: ZDP-COMP-002 | Effective date: 2024-04-15 | Owner: General Counsel

Applies to: All Zidipay employees, contractors, interns, directors, and third parties acting on Zidipay's behalf.

1. Purpose

Zidipay does not tolerate bribery or corruption in any form. This policy sets out the standards every person acting for Zidipay must follow, the rules on gifts and hospitality, conflicts of interest, political and charitable contributions, and the consequences of breaching them. It is consistent with the Bribery Act, 2010 (UK) extraterritorial provisions, the Foreign Corrupt Practices Act (US), and the Anti-Corruption and Economic Crimes Act, 2003 (Kenya).

2. What is prohibited

Bribery is offering, giving, receiving, or soliciting any item of value — money, gifts, hospitality, services, favours, or anything else — in order to improperly influence a decision. It is prohibited whether the other party is a private individual, a customer, a partner, a competitor, or a public official, and regardless of whether the bribe is paid directly or through a third party. Facilitation payments — small unofficial payments to expedite a routine service — are also prohibited.

3. Gifts and hospitality

Modest gifts and hospitality that are reasonable, proportionate, and given in the ordinary course of business are permitted, provided they:

- (a) are not cash or cash equivalents (vouchers, gift cards, cryptocurrency);
- (b) cannot reasonably be seen as influencing a decision;
- (c) are not given or received during an active procurement or tender process;
- (d) are disclosed in the Gifts and Hospitality Register where they exceed the de minimis threshold below.

3.1 De minimis threshold

Gifts received with a value of KES 5,000 or more (per item, per giver, per year) must be reported by the recipient to People Operations within 7 days using the Gifts and Hospitality form. Gifts of KES 25,000 or more require pre-approval from the line manager and Compliance, or must be politely declined.

3.2 Public officials

No gift, hospitality, or anything of value of any amount may be given to or received from a public official without prior written approval from the General Counsel and Compliance. This includes regulators, central bank staff, and elected officials in any jurisdiction Zidipay operates in.

4. Conflicts of interest

A conflict of interest is any situation in which an employee's personal interests, relationships, or outside activities could improperly influence — or appear to improperly influence — the employee's judgement on behalf of Zidipay. Examples include: outside employment with a competitor, supplier, or customer; close personal relationships with people in the same management chain; ownership of a meaningful stake in a vendor; or accepting a board seat at another company.

Every employee must disclose any actual, potential, or perceived conflict of interest in writing to People Operations within 7 days of becoming aware of it. People Operations, in consultation with the General Counsel, will determine the appropriate mitigation — which may include reassignment, recusal from specific decisions, divestment, or in extreme cases termination of employment.

5. Political and charitable contributions

Zidipay does not make political contributions of any kind, in cash or in kind, to political parties, candidates, or campaigns in any jurisdiction. Personal political contributions by employees are permitted in a personal capacity but must not use Zidipay funds, resources, time, or branding.

Charitable contributions are made through the Zidipay Foundation, governed by its own charter. Ad hoc charitable donations using company funds, on Zidipay branding, or that could reasonably be linked to a business decision, must be pre-approved by the General Counsel.

6. Third parties and agents

Zidipay can be held liable for bribery committed by third parties on its behalf — agents, distributors, partners, consultants. Every third party that acts on Zidipay's behalf must be onboarded through the vendor process, including anti-bribery due diligence proportionate to the risk, and must sign Zidipay's Anti-Bribery clause as part of the contract. Payments to agents are scrutinised for unusual fees, off-book payments, or invoices that do not describe the service performed.

7. Code of Conduct

In addition to the bribery-specific rules above, the Code of Conduct requires every Zidipay person to:

- (a) treat colleagues, customers, partners, and the public with dignity and respect;
- (b) refrain from any form of harassment, discrimination, or retaliation;
- (c) protect Zidipay's and our customers' information (see the Information Security Policy and the Data Protection and Privacy Policy);
- (d) act honestly in all dealings, including with regulators and auditors;
- (e) follow the laws of every jurisdiction Zidipay operates in.

8. Reporting concerns

Anyone who suspects a breach of this policy should report it. Reports can be made:

- (a) to your manager, or to People Operations;
- (b) to the Compliance team at compliance@zidipay.example;
- (c) confidentially via the whistleblowing hotline +254 711 000 911 (24/7) or whistleblow@zidipay.example.

Reports made in good faith are protected — no retaliation will be tolerated. The protection extends to current employees, former employees, contractors, and applicants.

9. Investigations and sanctions

Suspected breaches are investigated by Compliance, with the support of Internal Audit and external counsel where appropriate. Confirmed breaches may result in disciplinary action up to and including dismissal, recovery of losses, termination of contracts, and criminal referral. Several breaches under this policy are criminal offences and Zidipay will cooperate fully with prosecuting authorities.

10. Training and certification

Every Zidipay employee completes anti-bribery and code of conduct training in their first 14 days, with annual refresher and certification thereafter. Customer-facing, procurement, and senior roles complete role-specific training. Completion records are kept by People Operations.
